"There Were No Aesthists, That Night—" Cong. Rogers Asks

(The following excerpts from Lawrence Will's HURRICANE, which believe are appropriate in timing to the activities of Dedication of the HOOPER DIKE.)

"THERE WERE NO aesthists that night on the Shores of Lake Okechobee. It was HELL. — Then, for those still living came the second phase of Hell: the phase of desolation and despair; of searching — for the horrible remains of family friends and neighbors — and finally of burning them in heaps of dunes when they could no longer be transported."

"But good can emanate from evil and finally overwhelm and conquer it. Courage, fortitude and perseverance, those old 'american virtues, have transformed the former trap of death into a great agricultural empire which furnishes vegetables, beef and sugar for the tables of the nation."

"The Everglades, before drainage had been attempted by the State of Florida, had been one of the most inaccessible and impenetrable regions in America."

"It had hardly been a decade years before the storm that settlers in any appreciable numbers, having discovered the extreme fertility of its black mud soil, had come to this frontier area."

"Until recently all transportation had been by boat, roads were few and poor; means of communication were most inadequate."

"Except for a low, forested ridge along the Lake, the Everglades was totally flat, almost level and covered with a dense growth of saw-grass and weeds. Nearly all farms were on or near the Lake, which was an inland sea more than 700 square miles in area."

"It has been estimated that the energy developed by this hurricane in one hour would furnish the whole United States with electric power, and the wind which was blowing at the time, at such a speed, says the U. S. Weather Bureau, may be expected to occur only once in a century."

"Maximum Intensity And Height Of Water

"Just observed that the wind and water in the open Lake were both at maximum intensity about 9:00 or 9:30 that night, after the passing of the eye of the hurricane."

"It was later determined by the state engineers that the Lake had reached a height of eleven feet, eight inches above land level" (Gus Cromartie's House on Tolly Island)

"This levee, which on the eastern shore ran north and south at the base of Pelican Bay, ran nearly east and west, where it must with stand the direct brunt of the gale winds and the constricted waters of the Lake. It was on this stretch, where the dike crossed and dammed old Forked River that in the storm of 1926 a section of levee 800 feet in length had been entirely washed away."

"The bay may be compared with a funnel, with Section 13 at the junction of the lake and spout."

"The Lake used to stand at about 20 feet above sea level, yet 1-1/2 summer it had dropped to 13 feet. The dike started to leak between the 8th and 13th of August it raised 13.87 inches and during this month of September it has raised nearly every day, so the Lake is now over 16 feet elevation. Rain gauges on the Lake showed 21.5 inches for the month of September."

WEST'S STORE — CHOSEN

In West's store, all retreated up the stairs as the water rose. At the height of the storm the entire roof sailed away, at which all took refuge in the bathroom, an addition on the sea side where, like arduous they huddled in the only shelter remaining.

This building minus its roof and resting only on mud still, unaccountably remained in place, although the neighboring two story house of J. R. Lethman, founder of the settlement was carried northwesterly for half a mile.

Ted's Hotel with the old Rutledge Building, in the background. Darden's building is in between. The Western Union, restaurant and barber shop are presently in the approximate same place as the original Darden Building.

Tag Sales Lag

Mrs. Edwin Young at the Glades Office Building reports 488 tags sold for $4,458.60 for the first four days of last week compared to 533 tags for $10,831.00 for the same time last year. To date (through Tuesday) 576 tags have been sold for $12,178.70.

Mrs. Young announces that Q tags are now on sale at the Glades Office Building. These tags are for antique cars for 20 years or older at a flat rate of $5.25. To secure your license you must have an inspection of the car from the Florida Highway Patrol.

"There was little that could be recognized in the once familiar town of South Bay." Denton's Store, Denton's Bakery, Friedman and Crocker Franch two-story store, Van Horn residence and house deposited in street Forbes barge in foreground.

Full Cuban Break

Following is the text of the statement issued today by Congressman Paul G. Rogers in connection with the severing of diplomatic ties with Cuba:

"The action of the Department of State in severing diplomatic ties with Cuba is official cognizance of a fact that has been readily apparent to the American people for many months now. Castro's actions and incessant harangues heaping insults and indignities on the United States long ago cut away any common meeting ground between his government and this country. His regime was scarcely three weeks old when he made the first of a long number of marathon tirades against this Government, charging the United States with economic imperialism and oppression."

"Castro's pre-emptory proclamation of free communications and free speech have gone for exactly naught, and his government has refused to permit complete free press."

"The second in a series of programs built around the theme, 'Family Assemblies for the Sixties' also line with the third object set forth by the National Congress of Parents and Teachers: 'To secure adequate laws for the care and protection of children and youth.'"

Roberts Asks Magistrate Court

Be Created For Glades Areas

Rep. Emmett S. Roberts of St. Johns County has introduced a bill to create a magistrate court for the Glades area of Palm Beach County. In conversation with the department Roberts stated that it was his opinion that such a court could be created by the legislature to operate within the legal system in the outlying areas of Palm Beach County.

"Several plans have been discussed by the county bar association to solve the many problems arising as the constitution prohibits trials in other than the county seat."

It is apparent that the distance from the county court house in West Palm Beach will make it difficult for the public in obtaining warrants, traffic cases and pleas. A magistrate would help bridge this gap until our judicial system properly provides for this service.

The bill will be introduced early in the session so that the governor could make an immediate appointment and have the court operation as soon as possible. The terms of the bill will be made public at a public hearing on Feb. 23rd from 2 p.m. to 5 p.m.

Council Seeks Revision Of By-Laws In Order To Appoint Chief Of Police

The South Bay City Council at its regular session Thursday night instructed City Attorney Claude Jones to draw up necessary papers to amend the by-laws of the city charter to send to legislature at Tallahassee that the chief of police be appointed by the city council and not elected by the people.

Among other business a report was heard from Fire Chief Meade Williams on the fire he attended during the past year. He was called to 21 fires, 13 out of the city, with five in Lake Harbor. He asked that all volunteer firemen report at 8 p. m. each Tuesday night at the Fire Station for fire drills.

Sharon Tate Becomes Bride of Dan Jones In Hawaii

Ice blue and white kahili tied with male garlands marked the bridal path along which Miss Sharon Lynn Tate was escorted by her father, Paul R. Tate, to a fern decked altar to become the bride of Daniel Henry Jones of Belle Glade, on Dec. 28 at 4:30 in the afternoon.

The natural garden setting of lush tree ferns and vine encased arbors were covered with a red and white striped canopy for the wedding at the Tate's plantation home in Pahala, Hawaii. The Rev. Paul Bliss Billings read the marriage lines.

The bride was lovely in an antique satin gown cut on princess lines, the full skirt terminating in a chapel train. Applied wreaths of ice blue Alencon lace with minute pearls and palest blue sequins were scattered about the fitted bodice and neckline. Y back and short sleeves. Her fingertip veil of silk illusion was caught to a seed pearl crown. The bridegroom's gift of a pearl bracelet and her grandmother's sterling filigree brooch set with olivines were worn by the bride and she carried a bouquet of white carnations and blue-white violets.

Carrying out Christmas colors, Miss Patricia Wall, Kaula, Kaula, maid of honor, Miss Betty Hay Woodhouse, Kohala, bridesmaids, were dressed in red satin frocks with scoop necklines, short sleeves and full skirts. They were matching red satin tiaras with short veils, red satin slippers and carried bouquets of roses in shades from pink to red. Dolly Jean Severn as flower girl was dressed in red satin and carried a basket of red rose petals.

Groomsmen were John Paul Jones, brother of the bridegroom, best man, and Anthony Smart, Waimea, usher.

Mrs. Tate wore emerald green chiffon with small feather hat in autumn colors and a corsage of vanda hybrids. Mrs. Jones the bridegroom's mother was dressed in a beige brocade with gold.

Mathews-Sims Vows Said In Alaska

Miss Wanda Jean Mathews, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Mathews, Belle Glade and Mr. Edgar Merrill Sims, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Sims, Wichita, Kansas, were united in marriage Saturday, December 24th at the Church of Christ in Fairbanks, Alaska, at 6:00 p. m.

The ceremony was performed by Edwin Knapp, minister, before a background of candelabra, brass, and baskets of gladioli and mums.

The bride wore a ballerina length silk organ gown, fashioned with long tapered sleeves, scoop neckline, and lace inset at midriff ending in a large bow at the back of the waist. Her shoulder length veil of tulle was fastened to a band of pearls. Both her head piece and slippers matched her gown of eggshell white. She carried a white orchid with streamers.

Marx Wayne Sims served as his brother's best man.

A reception was held after dinner at the home of the A. D. Pusterboughs. Refreshments of wedding cake and punch were served.

Following a wedding trip to Mt. McKinley National Park, the couple are residing at 915 Turner St. Fairbanks, Alaska.

sat accessories complemented by a corsage of brown and green cypripedium orchids. The bride's maternal grandmother is the late Mrs. A. J. W. Mackenzie of Hilo. Mr. Tate is manager of Hawaiian Agricultural Co.

Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. J. Paul Jones of Belle Glade.

Following the ceremony the wedding party received 600 guests in the living room of the Tate home, decorated as a Christmas confection. A huge frosted tree done entirely in white with shimmering silver ornaments and white lights stood in one corner of the living room. Large peaked ornaments in turquoise, strung with matching ribbon hung from the ceiling in an opposite corner of the room. White carnations were arranged on the coffee table. Wreaths of macadamia nut leaves touched with gold ornament hung in both entryways, further decorated with ohia trees bearing groupings of turquoise and green ornaments and turquois doves.

Sirands of male were draped across the railing of the stairway. A white carnation lei decorated a semicircle about the wedding cake. Eight white tapers in low sterling candelabra stood on the bride's table. White anthuriums, orchids and maidenhair fern were also used in the dining room.

Mrs. George McPherson, Kailua, Oahu, aunt of the bride, executed the decorations for the wedding. Camellias and violets were brought from the Volcano by the bride's uncle Albert Mackenzie. The profusion of orchids used throughout were given by the Kau Yung Farms.

Champagne toasts were proposed to the newlyweds, and champagne and cocktails were served followed by a buffet supper in the garden. Bunny Brown's group played wedding music and for dancing later. After a wedding trip on Kauai, where the Tate family resided for a number of years, the newlyweds returned to Pahala and are expected to arrive in Belle Glade Friday or Saturday. Mr. Jones will continue his studies at the University of Florida at Gainesville, where they will make their home.

Miss Black is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Keith Black, members of pioneer families of Columbia County. Dr. Ozaki is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ozaki of Woodbine, Ga.

SURE HOPE HE REMEMBERS

TUT TUT CHARLENE!

EDITOR'S NOTE: Under a headline in Saturday's Miami Herald by-lined Charlene Scott, "What Does County Airport Need Most?" a reference was made to glades: "It's not some little CRACKER TOWN IN THE GLADES."

Charlene, you've been rude — there's no "cracker town in the Glades."

There are the cities of Pahokee, Belle Glade and South Bay, with Canal Point, Bean City and Lake Harbor, unincorporated communities.

Though, there's no stigma to any "cracker town" for the "cracker towns" of the USA are the backbone of America today.

But, my dear girl, with a story bearing the headline of Delray you should acquaint yourself with Palm Beach County enough to know that there're no "cracker towns" in your county — that is made up of "crackers"

Now, if you're referring to small agricultural communities, then, you've got us right, for we're small and we're agricultural.

It's thoughtless, to say the least, for you "city folks" to cast aspersions towards a fellow community in the same county.

Just how agricultural, most likely you should be informed:

Agriculture has brought in more "good unspent Yankee money" to Palm Beach County over the recent years than has tourism, or any other of our sustaining industries — more than $50,000,000 annually.

Do you know just what vegetables, and in what quantities are shipped from the Glades of the Palm Beach County, do you know how much sugar brings into the county annually; do you know how much additional capital investment and annual payroll is being brought into the Glades by three sugar mills actually under construction, and one potential; do you know how much production brings into your county, or dairy products for that matter; do you know how much money changes hands in the sod business annually?

Well, Charlene, read THE HERALD — the one from BELLE GLADE — and improve your knowledge!

You must have seen and heard the Great Mistake of the reporting profession — Ed Murrow; or maybe you are an adherent to the "editorializing" of Channel 4's oddity.

"Motorists as a group of taxpayers contribute more to the total cost of government in the United States than any other single user, profession or occupation."

"One of the interstate highway program penny-per-gallon taxes is due to expire June 30, 1961, but don't worry Congress will relinquish its hold on $600 million so readily."

—Kittanning, Pa. Leader-Times

"Labor leaders better recognize the signs and realize that the public is being wised up to their demands which continues to add to the cost of merchandise and services. They should do it now before government regulations are demanded which, in the long run, would only make matters worse."

Industry? Yes— But AGRO-Industry

With the holidays out of the way Floridians can settle down and face the new year with confidence. Few states have a better outlook for 1961. The so-called recession has affected Florida less than most states. Business may be feeling the pinch in some areas but the overall situation is good and promises to get better.

Under the able leadership of Governor Farris Bryant, Florida should make steady progress. His appointments have met with public approval and the manner in which he has taken hold indicates his experience and sound knowledge of the state's problems. I do not envy him his job, but I consider him a dedicated man, deeply concerned with the welfare of Florida, and feel that Florida is fortunate to have him as Chief Executive.

I look for a good tourist season. The severe cold weather over most of the nation has driven many sun-seekers to Florida earlier than usual and now that the holidays are over the number of visitors should steadily increase.

While vacancies are a problem in some areas, hotels and motels are beginning to fill and indications are that those old familiar "No Vacancy" signs will be appearing regularly from now on. Floridians can help the situation by being friendly and courteous. Tourist attractions thru out the state are stepping up their promotion, feeding and entertaining the throngs of visitors possible to promote the state.

Attractions such as Silver Springs, Cypress Gardens, the Seagrass and Weeki Wachee Spring all report splendid attendance with the outlook bright for the balance of the winter season.

Airlines, railroads and bus lines all report good business with advance reservations ahead of last year in many instances.

They are stepping-up schedules in order to take care of the expected increase traffic during the next several months. Fast jet service has put Florida closer to the centers of population than ever before and package tours make it possible for people of modest means to visit the state at moderate cost.

Industrial expansion will continue through 1961 both through the location of new plants and with the expansion of others. Probably the biggest industrial development this year will be noted in the Everglades where many millions of dollars will be invested in the expansion of the sugar industry.

The United States Sugar Corporation is planning the construction of a new sugar mill at a cost of over $12-million and in a joint agreement with the Savannah Sugar Refining Company will build a refinery. Other sugar operators, some from Cuba, are planning heavy investments and are acquiring large acreage of suitable sugar land.

The stepped up missile program and effort to put a manned satellite into space will mean steady advancement of the state with new electronic plants.

Fla's Savings And Loan Assns. Have $3 Billions

The 112 savings and loan associations in Florida set an all time high in savings increase for the month of November as savings increased by $38,358,000. The previous record for November was set last year when savings increased $38,000,000.

In releasing this information Carl F. Distelhorst, executive vice president of the Florida Savings and Loan League, said the November increase brought total savings in these Florida associations to $2,842,450,000, which is an all time high for the state.

Mr. Distelhorst also reported that the number of new homes being financed for construction by savings and loan associations in the state continue to decrease as 1,370 were financed during November, being the lowest monthly total in more than five years.

Mr. Distelhorst says the decrease in the construction of new homes is due to the decline in the demand for new homes and not to the lack of funds available for lending.

As of November 30, 1960, the savings and loan associations in Florida had assets of $3,207,651,000 and total mortgage loans of $2,842,450,000.

Queens And Princesses Asked To Fair Parade

An invitation by the S. Florida Fair and Exposition Committee has been issued to all young women in Palm Beach County formerly selected as "queens" or "princesses" for County organizations to participate in a parade of floats on Thursday, Jan. 26 preceding official opening of the fair on Friday, Jan. 27 at the fair grounds in Palm Beach.

Mr. Len Renault, West Palm Beach, chairman of a selection committee to screen applicants has announced that qualifications are not based on "beauty alone" but require an interest in hobbies, identification with youth organizations, and that applicants typify community life in this area.

Selection will be made from age brackets, 15 to 19 years of age, but this is not a "hard and fast rule" Mr. Renault said, since some instances of older contestants such as "Orange Bowl" queens will fall into a younger age group.

Other allied industries locating here to swell the state's economy and give employment to additional thousands.

While real estate sales and home building have slackened off in some areas, the new year should see improvement in both categories. Additional employment provided by new industries plus the steady flow of retirees to the state will call for more salesmen, managers and other service agencies.

Altogether, the future looks bright for Florida. While the national picture is not so bright, the change in our national administration should help the situation in no matter what happens Florida is in a more favorable position than most states. Be thankful for the abundance that is ours and for our blessings, look to the future with faith and confidence and mean steady advancement of the state in 1961 will prove to be a good year.

"SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

The very plan floated on this country by the State Dept. to keep Japan and other so-called "free" Oriental nations from going communist may in the long run send them into the communist camp.

This, of course, is an illogical viewpoint to come into being, but the fact is that the view reflects the fuzzy-headed thinking in the U. S. State Dept. which has perhaps become the C. W. Harder greatest system ever known for by League products and talented wild man practical experience.

Senator John Pastore in a recent talk pointed out what is happening, and the outlook is rather grim.

It has so far been the government policy to encourage the Cuban and other Cuban labor oriented manufacturers to gear up and produce goods to dump in the U. S. market.

One of three days, Senator Pastore points out, they will find the American market has been too hot to handle as they presently dump cheaply priced goods on the market, and they are also destroying employment in America.

Hence, U. S. unemployment will also the market for 2nd goods, causing a severe crisis for the United States and cause them to turn to communism.

Senator Pastore claims in the past 10 years unrestricted imports have cost 750 American jobs in the textile industry.

Uncle Dan From Democrat River

Dear Mister Editor:

I recollect a story in the paper way back yonder 30 years ago about a hunting trip Will Rogers took to Africa. The Saturday Evening Post was paying him a $1 a word fee sending him a check every week for his experiences. Ever time Will got a shot at some wild animal he'd put in his story, "Boom! Boom! Boom!" The magazine editors cabled him to quit shooting so much, said it was costing 'em $1 a shoot.

That's peanuts, Mister Editor, to what it's costing us taxpayers for their Senators in Washington to talk so much. I was reading a piece last night on the high price of talk in the Senate.

They was in session 220 days this last time and a copy of all their speeches weighed 112 pounds, filled 222 pages and used 12 million words. The fellow writing this piece was comparing it with a standard size Bible that weighs two pounds and 10 ounces, has 1,149 pages, and less than 8 million words.

If that was the end, things wouldn't be so bad, but all of it had to be printed in the Congressional Record at a page. This fellow went on to show that each Senator on the average received enough to fill 78 pages, and one distinguished Senator used 309 pages. Getting it down to dollars and cents, it cost the taxpayers $25,285 just to put this one Senator's speeches in print. Putting the speeches of all of ten print for the last session cost the folks back home $672,000.

I bring this item to the attention of the fellers at the country store Saturday night. Doublet claimed Senators was pikers alongside them diplomats in the State Department.

He said he was reading a piece the other day where Russia owes ten billion eight hundred million dollars and our striped pants boys offered to cross off the ten billion and settle for the eight hundred million. But up to now Russia is offering only three hundred million. Clem Webster allowed as how we better take it quick or they'll probably start charging us 6 per cent interest on the ten billion they don't aim to pay us.

Zeke Grubb was in favor of making diplomats get a year's advance training working with a bulky mule. Zeke claims after a feller learns how to handle a stubborn, bulky mule he'd just right to take on Russia. I think that's good advice, Mister Editor. Incidental, I've even heard that experience with mules is mighty good training for getting along with trainmen. But I ain't endorsing it for publication on account of my old lady might see this piece.

Yours truly, Uncle Dan

REBEL

Rehabilitation Directly Benefits Home Owners Thru Two Pump Canals

In the proposal for rehabilitation of the South Florida Conservancy District as discussed at the last meeting of the Board there are two items of particular benefit to Belle Glade homeowners.

The first is the proposal to remove 22,000 yards of rock from the canal along the south boundary of the City from the eastern limits to the Richmond Canal. This canal, which flows into the Hillsboro Canal, is the most important, and it is the most practical, avenue of disposal of flood waters from the City.

The second is the removal of rock from the canal beginning at Vinegar Bend eastward for one mile.

The replacing of tubs in the Chosen, Hillsboro and South Bay pump houses, the lowering of tubs and general maintenance as proposed will place these three units in a position for economical and effective operation.

water control facilities — arri-pation, as well as drainage — that face the district.

Studies began years ago, and brought up to date at the board meeting of the Board.

Over the last two years we have exercised remarkable patience and restraint, even in the face of constant and busy vocations. We have reluctantly imposed some economic sanctions against the Cuban government, unwilling to go further because of international obligations and world opinion.

General principals pumping or collecting canals must be dug deeper thru rock and some discharge basins must be raised due to an announced policy of a higher lake level.

There are two or more power units that would cause no surprise if reported tomorrow morning to be down and out, requiring immediate replacement. Arrangements have been made with the manufacturers to keep handy replacement parts of major consequence for just such an emergency.

The soils of the district cover the three major types of Glades — cistern clay, clayey sand and sawgrass; so conditions to be met in water control in the mucklands have been generally faced and solved.

The engineering and construction necessary to rehabilitate the district have been put on paper; there remains only the question of how to secure the cash — on a modified pay as you go plan, or the long-time method of bond financing.

Bond financing, under present conditions, is the more costly method because of engineering labor and fiscal fees, as well as high rate of interest over a long period.

Taxpayers and freeholder will be asked in the near future to make the Board in making this decision, for legislative action is necessary — and the time isn't long.

The levee was no impressive engineering structure, being a ditch bank of muck, varying in height from five to eight or nine feet above ground, and having a base width twenty to forty feet.

Constructed along the water's edge, it extended from Bacon's Point near Pahokee, past South Bay, Miami Locks, Clewiston and about three miles beyond Moore Haven, for a total length of 47 miles.
